New York. May 10.—There was a fall-ag off in speculative interest and ac-vity in the stock market today. With-Union Pac. ing off in speculative interest and acopt any pronounced reversal in the tone, operators were less disposed to accept the lead offered by the bidding up of the lead offered by the bidding up of the lead offered by the bidding up of the lead of the dueers' association, but the copper Productry was heavier than the general list. It was quite apparent that last week's speculation in the coppers had been in anticipation of the effect of these figures. It will be recailed that heavy profusely as the staking sales had made themselves and W. & L. E. sales had made themselves apthe coppers already on Satur-great growth in reasoning powthe general supeculative public, is one of the features of the pe-nas griven the better informed inwhich is one of the features of the period, has griven the better informed inside speculators to advance a step beyond the process of selling on good news to that of selling in anticipation of good news and on rumors of good news. The official statement of today shows a further increase of surplus stocks, although the amount is small, less than a million pounds and much the smallest increase for any month for a long time past. Efforts were made to correct the lad effect of the shortcoming of the statement compared with the prediction by reports of very heavy sales made since the first of the month and by explanations to lake shipments. The heavy time of the copper persisted in spite of these explanations.

Lending rates for fixed periods were marked up again in the money market. Foreign exchange rates also were firm and still near the gold export level.

In connection with the hardening prospect for money rates, the bond market was narrowed today, although prices did not suffer from the diminished demand. Total sales, par value, $5,358,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

A Unique Contest.

The school children of the city are offered an opportunity to give grownups some wholesome advice. The Salt Lake Security & Trust company is offering substantial prizes for the best essays on "Saving Money." The children can tell how they save money, how their parents save and how people ought to save. This contest is exciting a great deal of interest, and the wideawake boys and girls in all parts of the city are figuring out practical ways of saving which they can write about in this prize contest.
